

The General says—

The advantage of a guarantee on roofing lies in the fact that you can call upon the manufacturer to make good if the roofing falls down. But no guarantee should be accepted unless it is made by a concern of recognized responsibility.

BUSINESS SECURITY.

Stagnation In All Countries, Not Assuring This Security.

One of the most important questions of the day relates to the extent to which a government should interfere in the affairs of business. The successful man has always had to run the risk of attack. Safety from unreasonable interference by government or attack by others leads the ambitious man on to his greatest exertions. In some countries, as in parts of Asia, government rapacity has made it dangerous for a man to acquire anything beyond his bare necessities. In such a society, nothing but poverty and business stagnation can exist.

Governmental intervention in the affairs of business should extend only over such things as are necessary for public safety and truthful statements. Under such a government, business security is at its best. Individuality and initiative are encouraged; the country is progressive, and its future prosperity is well guarded. But as soon as legislation begins to deprive the producer of a square deal, or where business is "regulated" by people without the experience and necessary training, business security will be transformed into business depression. A government should be limited to its natural functions of just and reasonable legislation for the greatest good of the greatest number of people, and should never show favor in order to "catch votes" or to secure campaign contributions.

SOLDIER DIES FROM EFFECTS OF SOME DRUG

ARTILLERYMAN'S DEATH UNDER SUCH SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES THAT AN ARREST FOLLOWED SHORTLY AFTERWARD.

A. W. Harland, 27 years of age, a member of the Twenty-second company of Coast Artillery, of Fort Barrancas, died in the city jail yesterday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock, after having been taken there a short time before with a companion named T. W. Johnson, also a soldier, both of whom were found about 4 o'clock on Palafox street. The soldier's death was the result of some unknown poison which he had taken in a disorderly house on West Zarragossa street.

The coroner was notified and an inquest will be held this morning over the remains. In the meantime, a white woman named Ella Rose, keeper of a resort on West Zarragossa street, was arrested by the police, and later was turned over to the county authorities. She will be held awaiting the outcome of the coroner's investigation of Harland's death. This same woman was arrested last week on suspicion of having a criminal knowledge of the death of a colored woman, but was released from custody. The colored woman died under the influence of some drug, and the reason the resort keeper was arrested was because of the allegation that she alleged to have been obtained at her place. The death of Harland followed closely to that of the negro woman, and, according to the police, the two soldiers are said to have been in the Rose woman's resort yesterday afternoon.

Late in the afternoon of Sunday the two soldiers were on Palafox street and Officers Saccaro and Holland started to send them in on the charge of being drunk. At the same moment one of the soldiers fell in the street, on Palafox street near Intendencia, and it was almost necessary to carry them to the station.

Before reaching the station, however, both men were affected alike and City Physician Nobles was summoned to look into their condition. Dr. Nobles reached the police station at 5 o'clock and worked to bring the soldiers out of a sort of stupor into which they had fallen. Falling in this, he started a further investigation, and the most strenuous measures were adopted, the physician and an assistant working energetically to bring Harland to his senses. The soldier died while the doctor was at the station.

The arrest of the woman followed immediately, and she may be given an opportunity today to tell something of the brand of drinks which are reported to be obtainable at her house.

It was reported last night that two other men, both soldiers, were also poisoned by drinking some beer in the same place.

LABOR DAY TO BE OBSERVED

BANKS AND FEDERAL OFFICES WILL BE CLOSED TODAY AND QUITE A PROGRAM WILL BE HELD AT BAYVIEW.

No special preparations for the observance of Labor Day were made this year in Pensacola, but today the banks and federal offices, it was announced, would close for the entire day, and at Bayview Park, quite a program of sports will be pulled off. Excursions will be the order of the day if the weather is clear, which it gives promise of being, and a good time generally is being planned, especially by those federal officials who only get a holiday once in a great while.

MANGANESE ORE CARGO COMING

STEAMSHIP HAWAIIAN IS EXPECTED EITHER TODAY OR EARLY IN THE WEEK WITH LARGE CONSIGNMENT.

With a cargo of manganese ore from Rio Janeiro, the British steamship Hawaiian is expected either today or early in the week, and the entire lot will be discharged at this point, according to the best information now in hand of the transportation officials. The Hawaiian left Rio Janeiro on July 26, and passed Pernambuco three days later. That was the last heard of the steamer until a couple of days ago when report was made by the signaling station at Sand Key of the steamer passing that point.

This will be the second cargo of this ore to come from South America. The first cargo reached here some time during the past year, one of the Luckenbach steamers bringing the consignment. Her trip here was recalled yesterday by interested parties, because a "lump" in the harbor, which, however, has now been cut away, was found by the steamer and the deep vessel lodged on said lump, a part of the cargo being taken off to lighten the steamer before she could be free.

CARGO NITRATE OF SODA HERE

STEAMSHIP HARTINGTON ARRIVES FROM WEST COAST OF SOUTH AMERICA AFTER VOYAGE OF MORE THAN TWO MONTHS.

After a voyage of more than two months, the British steamship Hartington reached port yesterday, having aboard a cargo of over 6,000 tons of nitrate of soda, the larger part of which will be discharged at Pensacola. It was stated yesterday that the steamer may go to New York with a portion of the product, but this was not definitely decided upon last night. Representatives of the importers are to be in the city today, and it is said that it will depend altogether on what dispatch is given the steamer here whether or not the entire lot will be handled through this port.

The Hartington came into the bay and after the port physician boarded the big steamer, gave orders that the vessel should be fumigated. Accordingly the Hartington was steamed to a point across the bay and this process was undergone during the afternoon, the steamer being given pratique about 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

It is possible that work of discharging the steamer will start this morning. Quite some time was consumed on voyage to Pensacola. Loading at the Chilean port of Valparaiso, and calling at Iquique, the Hartington, on July 1, started for Pensacola, and made several stops. She was reported at the Mejlillon July 9, and at Coronel July 14, arriving at Montevideo about ten days later. On July 28, the last leg of the voyage was started, and after a short call at St. Vincent for orders, came on to this port, arriving Sunday. This steamer did not come through the Panama canal, as her trip had been mapped out before the great waterway had been opened to commercial traffic. Hereafter, all steamers from the Chilean coast will be routed via the canal, thus saving many thousand miles.
